Global COO Allianz Global Investors

As Global COO, George McKay is responsible for Allianz Global Investors' IT, Operations and Legal & Compliance functions globally and is a member of the Global Executive Committee. In addition to his global role, George continues to act as COO in Asia Pacific.

George McKay joined Allianz Global Investors in 2006, heading the operations for all Allianz Global Investors entities in Asia Pacific. He established the Asia Pacific Corporate Centre as a centralized infrastructure to support regional coordination among operations, IT, risk management, finance, project management and product development.

George brings to the group over 30 years of experience in the asset management and asset servicing sectors in Asia and Europe. Previously, George was with Mellon, where, as an executive director for Investment Management Solutions, he ran the asset servicing business for the group's non-US operations, with responsibility for over a thousand staff in seven locations. Prior to joining Mellon, George was a managing director at JP Morgan Fleming Asset Management, where he was responsible for the sales and marketing function of the group's mutual fund business. During his time at JP Morgan, George also ran the technology and operations divisions.
